"I'm now in law school, thanks to help from Learning Ally."

Dear Parent,

My name is Ashley. I am one of the 60 million Americans who struggle with dyslexia.

I'm telling you my story today because Learning Ally helped change my life, and it can change your child's future too.

I used to be absolutely terrified to read in front of my classmates. Whenever I was called upon at school to read aloud, the words would become jumbled and I would panic.

I was so stressed out about having to read in front of my peers and felt awful about myself. That all changed when I found Learning Ally and was finally able to believe in myself again.

I don't want to think about what may have happened if I hadn't found Learning Ally.

Through Learning Ally's support services, I was able to listen to my textbooks in audio format, learn to love reading, and regain confidence. Now I'm in law school and I continue to use Learning Ally's powerful resources.

Learning Ally needs support from people like you – parents, families and friends who want to see students with dyslexia succeed – in order to continue providing these important services. Please consider donating today to help more students like me achieve their full potential. There are millions more students - possibly your own child – who need Learning Ally's programs and supportive community. Please help today!

Sincerely,

Ashley Reese
Law student and Learning Ally member
